

Sonny 08-054

It feels like Sonny has been with us forever. He is a dream. Such and easy and kind old boy. He pretty much goes with us wherever we go. He rides around with Skye in the back seat of the van and hangs out while I drop the kids off at school etc. He is so disappointed on the occasions that he has to stay home. He is incredibly gentle with the kids, cats and birds. I really overwhelmed him! He loves other dogs and has a ball at doggy daycare on my work days. I go to check on him and he is always playing, either strolling around with other dogs, or in the play pool. He gets so tired, and even a little sore, after his daycare days because he gets so much action, but he loves it. On the evenings that I work late, he stays up waiting for me downstairs. It really warms my heart. We will be going to doggy training in a month or so. The first class was already full. He isn't so strong on his obedience skills but really, I can see why not, there is hardly a need. Let's see what else....Oh, the girls have a regular doggy beauty parlor so he is getting all sorts of brushing and looks great. He just got a compliment yesterday.

Anyway, we love him so. Here are a few pictures.....
